DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 117 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 117 recites the limitation "the first material" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 106-111, 113, 115-116, 118, 119 and 121-124 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 5,431,310 to Kanner et al.

Kanner show a dispensing assembly 110, as seen in Fig. 8, attached to a resilient walled container 114 by a neck portion 136 engaging the interior of the container's neck, a tip 128 extending from the neck portion and defining a bore in direct communication with the interior of the container to provide a linear fluid flow path A, a pressure actuated slit valve 126, a vent 128 with a first vent flow path section along the axis of the bore and a second flow path section substantially perpendicular to the bore, a hydrophobic silicone membrane filter element 124 extending across an opening of the vent and molded together with an acrylic copolymer nozzle, a retaining member and deflecting member 132 and a cap indicated by the dotted line.

The device of Kanner performs the method step of providing a liquid in a resilient-walled container, applying sufficient manual pressure to dispense from the container and removing the manual pressure to close the valve, see column 4, lines 5-39, as claimed in method claim 124.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 112 and 120 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5,431,310 to Kanner et al.

Kanner show all claimed features as discussed above but is silent about the particle size that can be prevented from flowing through the vent. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the hydrophobic vent of the device of Kanner to prevent flow of particles dimensioned according to the application and environment the dispenser will be used, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. As per MPEP 2144.05

7. Claims 114 and 117 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5,431,310 to Kanner et al. in view of US 5,154,325 to Ryder et al.

Kanner show all claimed features as discussed above but is silent about the cap containing an anti-microbial liner. The device of Ryder show a valve assembly molded or treated with an antimicrobial component. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add a layer of anti-microbial product to the cap of Kanner in order to maintain a microbial sterile condition of any liquid retained following liquid dispensing, as taught by Ryder.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 106-124 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
